CUPE progressing on K-12 local agreements

BURNABY— In December, the Canadian Union of Public Employees, representing 26,000 members in B.C.'s public school system, reached a tentative Provincial Framework Agreement with the BC Public School Employers' Association. That agreement (July 1, 2010 to June 30, 2012) was overwhelmingly endorsed by CUPE's K-12 Presidents' Council that is made up of presidents from the 55 different locals.

To complete the bargaining process each local union must reach a tentative agreement at their local table by February 29, 2012. The completed local agreement, once ratified by the local membership, will together with the Provincial Framework Agreement, make up each new collective agreement. Since December, several CUPE locals have reached tentative settlements and two have completed the full ratification process.
