

Join the conversation and share your priorities about your work and public education

HOW TO REGISTER

Each call has a unique Zoom link which will take you to a separate Zoom registration form. You must register for each call you wish to attend.

If you happen to click on the wrong link do not complete the information, instead go back to the call listings and click on the correct link. Making your selection will take you to a simple form.

When you click "Submit", a unique Zoom link to register for the meeting you have selected will open in a new window. You will receive an email with your call information after you register.

If you have any problems, please email: clesito@cupe.ca

You can register using the embedded links below or on the bcschools.cupe.ca home page.

CUPE members in British Columbia's K-12 (including early years) public education system are invited to participate in a series of consultation and planning calls set to begin in early April. These Zoom calls – hosted by the CUPE K-12 Presidents Council and CUPE National staff – are an important and exciting opportunity for members to hear from others who do the same or similar work, and to share information and priorities.

We know that each district might have different job titles/positions, so please choose the one that relates closest to yours. We have set up these calls to be inclusive of everyone in a focussed and informative conversation.
